

Known for her vulnerable songwriting and emotionally rich live performances, indie artist Celestine Manno has been described as “a dreamy blend of nostalgic grit and modern shimmer.” Her debut album Once You’ve Seen It All, co-produced with Chris Funk of the Decemberists, was recorded at Floki Studios in Iceland and released via Floki Studios and Color Red Music at the end of 2023. After moving to New York City in 2024, Celestine continued to release music and quickly found a home in the local scene, playing across the city and connecting with listeners through her compelling shows. With a new album in the works and an EP set for release in March 2026, Celestine continues to create momentum with a sound that is dynamic, honest, and authentic.

“...an artist who knows how to make the old feel new and the new feel timeless.”
-Where The Music Meets

“...the record is hinged on nostalgia, self-belief and the power of determination.”
-Earmilk

“...inspires admiration on several fronts, but none more fervently than its lyrical prowess.”
-Indie Shuffle

Spotify

Website

Instagram

Youtube

Everything Else

Discography:
Once You’ve Seen It All (2023)
Althea (2024)
That Thing (2025)
Breaking Me Down (2025)
How Time Passes Here (coming 2026)

contact: hello@celestinemanno.com